

ABSTRACT

Adi, Agus. 2022. The Syntactical Analysis of Compound Sentence Found in “Crazy Rich Asian” Novel by Kevin Kwan. English Study Program, Faculty of Foreign Languages, Mahasaraswati Denpasar University. Supervisor: I Gusti Bagus Wahyu Nugraha Putra, S.S.,M.Hum.; Co-supervisor: Putu Devi Maharani, S.S., M.Hum.

Compound sentence is a sentence that has a couple or extra independent clause that connected by conjunction coordinator Fanboys (For, and, nor, but, or, yet, so), semicolon/coma, and conjunctive adverb. The center of this study is compound sentence found in “Crazy Rich Asians” novel by Kevin Kwan. The aims of this are (1) to find out types of compound sentence in Crazy Rich Asians novel by Kevin Kwan (2) to analyze the constituent structure of compound sentence found in Crazy Rich Asians novel by Kevin Kwan. Moreover, qualitative method was used in this research to analyze the data found in this study. In order to analyze the data, there are two theories are used. The first main theory is from Oshima and Hogue (1998) about type of sentence, and the second as supporting theory is from Brown and Miller (1991) about tree diagram structure. There are two ways of presenting the data in this study; formal and informal method. The formal method used in form of tree diagram and the informal method used words to explain the data descriptively. The result of the study shows types of compound sentence found in the novel. There are 34 data belong to compound sentence that connected with coordinator, 2 data are compound sentence that connected by semicolon / coma, and the rest are 2 following data of compound sentence that connected with conjunctive adverb.

Keywords: Compound Sentence, Type, Novel, Constituent Structure,